ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A pet enclosure for attractively displaying a pet and providing heating, cooling or air circulation as needed is constructed of several panels. A floor panel, side panels, front viewing panel structure including a window, and a cover panel are attached together using trim strips, the trim strips can be further attached to the panels using screws or adhesive. Preferably the trim strips are made of aluminum and the non-window panels are made of two to three-inch thick foam panels with outer skins.

LITMAN LAW
OFFICES, LTD.
P.O. BOX 15035
ARLINGTON, VA 22215
(703) 486-1000